BOY SCOUT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Special Effort Will be Made to Obtain 250 Associate Members in Rush County.

ORGANIZATION PERFECTED

Renewed Interest in Scout Work Here Because of Organization of Troop in Rushville.

The Boy Scouts will not take their usual like Sunday, it was announced today by W. D. Baughman, scoutmaster of the troop No. 1, on account of tomorrow being Decoration Day. All Scouts are urged by the scoutmaster to attend some memorial service on that day.

Boy Scout week will be observed in Rush county next week and an effort will be made to obtain at least two hundred and fifty associate members in the county.

Earl H. Payne, county chairman, stated that one hundred associate members were obtained in this county last year and that it was hoped to more than double the membership this year.

The local Boy Scout troop, under the direction of Scoutmaster Baughman, will assist in the campaign this year by soliciting subscriptions in Rushville.

A renewed interest has been taken in Boy Scout work in Rushville by reason of the fact that W. D. Baughman has organized a troop here and is acting as scoutmaster. An effort will be made by the local Scout council, in conjunction with other supporters of the work, to interest others so that more troops may be formed. The greatest need to enlarge the work here is for scoutmasters and an earnest endeavor will be made to obtain more.

The Rotary Club of Rushville has already shown its interest in the Scout movement as a means of working for the betterment of the boys of Rushville, by offering to support the work in this city. Next week's luncheon, Tuesday noon, will be devoted to Boy Scout Week and the local Scout council, which is composed of Bert Mullin, O. C. Brann and L. L. Allen, has been invited to attend the meeting.

Every person who contributes from one to five dollars during Boy Scout week, to the work of the organization, is granted an associate membership. Contributing members are those who contribute $5 to $25 and sustaining members include all who give $25 or any sum above that.

In addition to Mr. Payne, the other members of the county organization are: J. H. Scholl, vice-chairman; Miles S. Cox, treasurer and Roy E. Harold, secretary.

The township and city committees are as follows:

Rushville City, Prof. A. M. Taylor, Ernest B. Thomas, John Wilkinson, Ralph Payne, Wilbur Stiers, Bert Crabbe, Theodore Heesh, Glen E. Foster, L. L. Allen, Frank M. Sparks and Homer W. Cole.

Jackson township, Adva Newhouse and Dr. J. F. Bowen; Center township, Gay C. McBride; Washington township, Ed V. Jackson and Harry Schmell; Union township, John F. Japes, William R. Martin and Homer N. Nash; Noble township, John F. McKee; Richland township, Charles V. Spencer and Joe H. Pike.

CAVALRY AND GUNS ARE SENT TO IRELAND

British Military Officials Take Steps to Meet Situation Following Attack on Soldiers.

BARRACKS ARE SET ON FIRE

(By United Press.)

London, May 29.—British military officials today took steps to meet the critical situation in Ireland, following attacks on the soldiers' barracks at Kilmallock, where two constables were located.

The barracks were set on fire by a squad of one hundred men.

Premier Lloyd George presided at a cabinet conference last night and it is understood drastic actions were taken to cope with the Irish disorder.

Flying columns of cavalry were sent to Kilmallock. A motorcycle corps was organized and will be sent to that place immediately.

Four-pounder guns, a number of arms and munitions were landed at Kingston last night, according to dispatches received here.

A number of lorries has been rushed to Dublin. A fusillade of fire was the first indication the constables had that they were being attacked.

Bombs containing liquid fire were thrown upon the roofs of the barracks, setting fire to one wing of the barracks.

MAJOR RULINGS TO GOVERN

ALLEN R. HOLDEN

DIES EARLY TODAY

Former Rushville Business Man and County Auditor Expires at Age of 63 Years.

FORMERLY AN UNDERTAKER

Member of Firm of Churchill & Holden and Building Now Owned by Mauzy Co., Was Erected.

Allen R. Holden, a former business man of this city, and a native of Rush county, expired this morning at 7:35 o'clock at his home, 210 East Seventh street, after a several weeks' illness. Mr. Holden was born May 16, 1857, making him a few days past 63 years at the time of his death.

Mr. Holden became an embalmer in 1893, and engaged in the undertaking business here, and later formed a partnership with Milton and Earl Churchill. This firm built the large building at the corner of Main and Third streets, now occupied by the Mauzy Company.

The firm of Churchill and Holden continued in business for several years in this building, conducting a large department store, with undertaking parlors on the second floor.

In more recent years Mr. Holden had not been actively engaged in the undertaking business, and devoted his time almost wholly to the manufacture of cement blocks. In 1912 he was elected auditor of Rush county on the democratic ticket, and held this office for four years.

He is survived by a widow, and three daughters, Teco, Edith and Laura, all of whom live in this city. Three brothers also survive, William T. and Theodore E., of this county, and C. C. Holden of West Palm Beach, Fla., and two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Worsham of this city, and Mrs. Flora George of Pierce City, Mo.

Mr. Holden was a member of the official board of the Main Street Christian church, and was a member of the Red Men, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellow lodges.

The funeral services will be held at the late residence Monday afternoon at four o'clock, conducted by the Rev. L. E. Brown, and interment will be made in East Hill cemetery.

HOUSE SUSPENDS RULE

Washington, May 29.—The soldier bonus bill in the house today failed on the first test vote to get the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the Fordney bill under suspension of the rule while the vote was 192 to 189, two voting present, the house sustained the decision of Speaker Jillett, that the suspension of the rule for six days in order to bring up the bonus bill was in order.

Memorial Days of 1918 And 1919 In France Are Compared

By HARVEY D. ALLEN

In this letter it is the desire of the writer to show the comparison between two Memorial days in France, the one during the war and the other just before peace was signed.

It has been said that Memorial Day 1918, was the day of more unrest and feeling of fear than at any other time the American Army was in France. It was the only time when a daylight air raid alarm was sounded in Laugres. We had many alarms but no German planes ever came over except possibly once. The alarms became so numerous later that the Americans requested the French not to sound them as they were always false and disturbed their sleep.

During the morning of this day the French school children brought flowers to school and then carried them to the American section of the local cemetery and decorated the graves of the Americans that were buried there. It brought back pleasant memories to the time when the school children used to do the same in this country, a custom that has passed, for the most part, in Ameri-

POLAND CHINA HOG

MEN ARE ENTHUSED

Hold Interesting Meeting Friday Afternoon and Outline Program of Activities

J. W. SCHWAB OF PURDUE HERE

Tour of County to Inspect Herds Scheduled For June—Auction Sale is Planned

The Rush County Big Type Poland China Breeders' association held a very enthusiastic and interesting meeting Friday afternoon at the farm home of Glen Kirkham in Center township. J. W. Schwab of the Purdue animal husbandry department led the discussion on breeding association activities.

Out of the discussion grew a program of activities which the organization plans to carry out in the near future. A tour of some of the leading herds of the county, to which not only the members of this organization, but all who are interested in swine herd improvement, and pure bred hogs are invited, will start things off some time next month. The date of the tour will be announced later. The ladies are included in this invitation and upon the insistence of Earl Oneal a monstrous basket dinner will be enjoyed along the route. The tour will be designed to combine a social good time with the business of seeing what the other fellow is doing along the line of pure bred hog work.

Another activity which is considered and will probably be carried out this fall is the combination association auction sale. The plans for the sale and arrangements will be made at the time of the tour.

The organization took kindly to club work and conducting a pure bred and big type sow and litter club is under consideration to be started this fall. Those attending the tour will have an opportunity to hear the plans for this project which will be submitted by the committee which was appointed at the meeting.

In spite of the busy season the attendance of the meeting yesterday was better than expected, and a number of leading breeders from Henry county including Dr. M. C. Barrett, Everett Burton, O. H. Barrett and Carroll Williams, were in attendance. The enthusiasm shown at the meeting indicates that the organization is going to do things which will help put Rush County on the map as a pure bred hog center.

H. S. BOYS ACCEPT POSITIONS

ARMOUR GRAIN CO. IS FINED

(By United Press.)

The attorney representing Armours, pleaded guilty to the charges and paid the fine.

DECISION OF LOCAL COURT IS AFFIRMED

Appellate Court Rules Evidence in Case of Cross vs Green Warranted Granting Injunction

IT INVOLVED A TILE DRAIN

The state appellate court has upheld a decision of the Rush circuit court in the case of William Cross against Hal Green, in which the plaintiff was granted an injunction to prevent the defendant from constructing a watering place in an eighteen inch public tile drain which passed through his farm and drained Cross's farm.

Cross maintained at the hearing of the case in the local court that the watering place already maintained by Green, or another one constructed in a new and different manner, interfered with the flow of water in the tile. The local court granted the plaintiff an injunction and Green appealed to the appellate court on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant the issuing of an injunction.

The substance of the opinion affirming the decision of the local court is that the evidence was sufficient.

KATE RICHARDS O'HARE RELEASED BY WILSON

Woman Convicted For Violation of Espionage Act is Given Her Freedom Today

NOT FORERUNNER OF POLICY

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 29.—President Wilson today ordered the immediate release from prison of Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare, one of the so called "political prisoners."

The release of Mrs. O'Hare, Eugene V. Debs, Rose Pastor Stokes and others has been demanded by the socialist party convention and citizens committee in petitions to the White House. The socialist petition was given Secretary Tammity two weeks ago.

Mrs. O'Hare was convicted for violation of the espionage act. She has been at Jefferson City since April 14, 1918.

The White House officials said the release was on the recommendation of the department of justice and should not be taken as a forerunner of general amnesty to all political prisoners. Each case will be considered on its merits, they said.

OVER $100,000 IS GIVEN TO JOHNSON

Witness Before Senate Committee Testifies Between $100,000 and $125,000 Was Raised.

IN SENATOR'S STATE ALONE

Newspaper Correspondent Refuses to Divulge Source of Story About "Slush Fund."

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 29.—Between $100,000 and $125,000 was raised for the Hiram Johnson primary campaign in California, Alexander McCade of San Francisco told the senate campaign investigation committee today.

The largest individual contribution was $5,000, McCade said. He said he could not discover the nine millionaires which Herbert Hoover men said were on the Johnson primary ticket.

He named five as the only millionaires among the twenty-six California delegates.

"Any millionaires on the Hoover delegation?" Kenyon asked.

"Offhand I never counted them, but consider there were a number," McCade said.

McCade said $25,000 was sent from California to Johnson's headquarters in New York, $4,000 to Michigan and $2,000 to Indiana.

F. W. Wiles, newspaper correspondent, the next witness, refused to divulge the source of the recent paper dispatches which said that a "slush fund of $250,000 or upwards" was raised for the Johnson primary campaign in California.

Wiles said Johnson's finances were not so large as that of Wood or Lowden, but considerable more than that spent in behalf of Hoover. Further inquiry into the McCade boom, was begun with Evans Harris of Albany, former chairman of the New York democratic committee, testifying.

He denied that he had any knowledge of the McCade headquarters at New York.

Troops from the Alpine district will be sent to Paris to participate in the ceremonies. The archbishop of Rheims and Tucon have ordered prayers to be said throughout their dioceses for the soldier dead.

Hundreds of relatives of the buried doughboys have pilgrimaged to France to pay respects to their loved ones.

party at his home in North Perkins who was elected grand warrier at the recent meeting of the grand commandery in winning the attend-present, and a number of toasts were given.

While winds from the north have remarkable and interesting character-passed by new forms produced by hybridization in the greenhouses of experts. Now, the hybrids are many in number and are supplanting the older varieties in part because of their exquisite beauty of color and their greater ease of cultivation. It is slow work, the crossbreeding of

LEONARD Cleanable Refrigerator

The Leonard is the result of 27 years of refrigerator building. Its appearance is handsome, its construction, honest and sturdy. Its walls of insulation keep the warm air out and the cold air in. It operates on a natural principle, creating a gentle current of dry, cold air that circulates continuously through its compartments. The food in this dry, frigid air retains all its sweetness and purity. Tight-fitting door means food economy. The lining which extends clear to the edge of the door-frame is just one piece of pure-white, glossy-smooth porcelain without a crack or a seam to collect grease and so thick and hard it cannot be scratched. In the Leonard Cleanable you will find many exclusive patented features. The front corners inside the door are rounded, making this the most cleanable refrigerator in the world. Running down inside the door is a drain pipe which prevents the pipe from sweating and making the bottom damp. Back and under the lining of the ice chamber is an arrangement that prevents leaking. These things mean satisfaction and long life. There is a style and size Leonard to meet every purse. Rear icing door and porcelain lined water cooler if desired.

The home talent minstrel show given in Milroy last night was well attended and the program rendered exceeded anything like it ever given in Milroy, according to word received from that place today. The show was given for the purpose of raising money for the athletic fund for the high school, and those who took part in it consisted of the best talent in Anderson, township and for the most part were former students and graduates from the Milroy school. Besides the usual comedians, a girls' chorus also entertained the crowd.

An Impossible Thing

The federal officials talk optimistically, and point out that the debt has been reduced by more than a billion dollars since it reached its peak of $26,600,000,000 in August of last year. But they do not call attention to the fact that the present year's deficit is likely to amount to five billions, that we have already spent the income and excess profits taxes receipts (our chief source of revenue) up to March 15, 1921, that next year's appropriations are going to run up to five billions without allowing anything for the railroads or for bonus legislation, that the Cummins Esh bill is likely to call for $1,300,000,000 to be taken out of the Treasury and turned over to the railroads, and that bonus legislation is likely to cost any sum up to two billions. Men conversant with the actual situation realize, despite the chaotic state of government bookkeeping, which would bankrupt any ordinary business concern in six months, that it is going to be necessary by some means to provide not less than twelve billions of dollars for the next twelve months beginning with July 1 next. The more thoughtful men in Congress view the situation very soberly; for they realize that the day of reckoning cannot be forever postponed. It was no mere partisan feeling that led Senator Smoot to declare in debate the other day, in discussing possible appropriations for the next fiscal year of but $5,200,000,000: "It is an impossible thing, and I want to say to the Senator that never in my life have I worried so much over the future of my country as I have in the last six months. There has got to be a stop to the wicked waste of public money that has been running so rife in the last few years or there is going to be trouble; and I sometimes think that if the trouble comes it will be even more serious than the trouble that is being experienced in Europe."

A Paltry Sum

A Washington dispatch recently credited the Department of Justice with saying that six hundred million dollars will be taken from the people this year in sugar speculation alone.

Does it jar you? It shouldn't. Six hundred million dollars is a paltry sum, too insignificant to cause even mild surprise.

Of course, if some one should steal a chicken, or a slab of bacon, or something else worth while, we Americans would immediately demand punishment adequate to the enormity of the crime.

But six hundred million dollars in sugar speculation?

Too trifling for consideration—only chicken feed for a day.

But if sugar becomes prohibitive in price there is yet good that will result from a seeming evil. We will eat less and feel better.

We Americans are not so robust physically as were our forefathers before us. They ate a little sugar and we eat much.

And besides, if we men are denied the luxury of sugar it will only cement our fondness for that which is even sweeter—our wives and our daughters and our babies.

Some people indignantly deny that they are influenced by superstition. They only believe in the efficacy of the Ouija board.

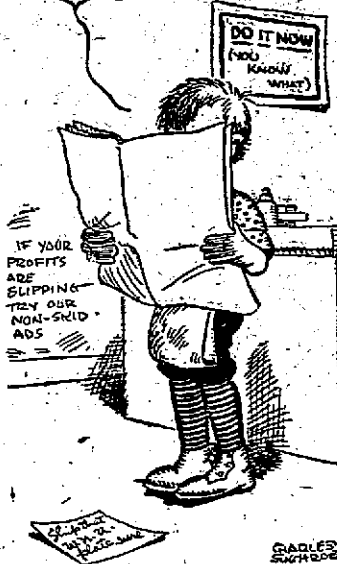

Impulse sometimes leads a person astray, but it is better to act upon a plan to hesitate until too late.

It may seem paradoxical, but some men thrive upon vice and are weakened by the vice upon which they thrive.

Few people ever reach the goal of their ambition. There is always something higher that they want.

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will Be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

Algy Moore was coming home from school one day and met Harold Skinner, his bitterest enemy. They usually never spoke but Algy wanted to "make up" with Skinny, because Skinny had organized a base ball team with two champion players, Jim Bates and Alf Tate, Algy ventured to say:

"Hello, Skinny, how's your team?"

"Who told you to speak to me, you bully?" asked Skinny.

"Say that again please?"

"You—"

Algy gave him a knock that sent him sprawling to the ground.

The next evening Algy entered the living room where his father and mother were reading.

"I had a fight yesterday with Harold Skinner, father," announced the lad.

"Yes," replied his father, laying down his book and turning to look at his offspring, "his father called at my office today to see about it."

"I hope you came out as well as I did," calmly replied the boy.

Memorial Days of 1918 And 1919 In France Are Compared

attempted an air raid on Paris. The Allies lived up to their agreement scrupulously.

Langres, at this time, was in addition to being Headquarters Army Schools, was also the Headquarters Advance Section, Service of Supply. This latter "headquarters" had charge of all the supplies of whatever nature for all the divisions in the Advance Section and those in Combat Area. It is one of these which I desire to mention the Third Division. The division headquarters were at Chateaufort in the Department of Haute Marne, north-west of Langres and south of Chateau-Mont (G. H. Q.). The Third was a regular army outfit and had only recently arrived in the theatre of war but was destined to play an important part in the turning of the Boche.

During the whole month of May, convoys of empty trucks had been coming into Langres under the direction of the Advance Section, from Bordeaux and St. Nazaire and some from other base ports, until every one was asking, "What are they going to do with so many trucks?" The roads and every available space in the Valley of the Marne just east of the town was filled with trucks. Lieutenants, who had been trained in the States, in Motor Transportation, were arriving daily. Motor Truck Companies were coming in large numbers. They had nothing for these Lieutenants to do, so General Sample issued an order that one of them should ride on every truck that was in use until they found a place for them. This however did not last but a few days, because the Germans made a place for all surplus men and officers. On Memorial day orders were issued that every man and officer who could drive a truck to report for duty, rumors were abroad that they would go "to the front." Quite a number of men went A. W. O. L. for this work. Since they went towards the line instead of to the rear, charges were not filed. At dusk that evening all the available trucks were lined up along the "Route Nationale" (National Road) and about nine or ten o'clock got under way headed in the direction of Chateau-Mont. It was a never to be forgotten sight to see fifteen hundred trucks on the road, their lights could be seen for miles winding among the hills along the Marne valley. I stood for an hour looking over the ramparts and watched this most historic event.

It afterwards developed that these trucks with hundreds of others from Dijon took the Third division into the line, the 7th Machine Gun Battalion having preceded them and had gone into action this very day on the left bank of the Marne in the streets of Chateau-Thierry. A year afterwards I visited this spot, now famous in American history, where these men prevented the Boche from crossing the river. They placed their machine guns in the houses and prevented the Germans from crossing the river. In the German side of the river is a very wide street or square and it was death to any man who came into the open. The Second division arrived a little in advance and made their stand on the left of Chateau-Thierry. The Third was on the right of the town to the east along the Marne as far as the village of Jaulgonne. The most heroic stand was made by a platoon of the 30th Infantry at Mezy where they fought to virtual annihilation. A week later the Third went out of the line with bands playing and flags flying. Thus in a short space of time the Germans had been held at this point by two American divisions and the name of Chateau-Thierry forever placed in the history of the American people. This was destined to be the turning point of the great German offensive begun in March, although on July 15th they made the last final effort that failed and the Third again helped to stay the shock of this offensive, together with the 2nd (Rainbow) division far to their left on the other side of the bulge in the line.

Thus passed the first Memorial Day in France. Every place in the country where the Americans were buried, special attention was paid to their graves by the local French authorities. Corpus Christi this year fell on Memorial Day and the processions in France were postponed until the Sunday following in honor of the American dead. The French possibly have more respect for the dead than any other people with the exception of the Chinese.

Memorial Day last year, 1918, was observed in every part of France with special ceremonies; the two chief celebrations were at Romagne and Suresnes (Paris). General Pershing spoke at the former place where 22,000 Americans lie buried, who died for their country in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. At Paris, President Wilson spoke in the American Cemetery at Suresnes. The town of Suresnes is a suburb of Paris and is reached by train from the Gare St. Lazare and by tramway. The Red Cross, K. of C., Y. M. C. A. and Jewish Welfare Board also provided trucks and thousands of American men and women paid homage to the dead. The day was unusually bright, it had not rained for several weeks and was hot and dusty. The party of which I was a member chose the tramway for going to Suresnes. It starts from Porte Maillot, near the entrance to the Bois de Boulogne. The route passes along the Boulevards Maillot and Richard Wallace to the banks of the Seine. This street car ride was the most pleasant ride that I have ever taken. The traffic the entire distance, under the shade of the trees of the Bois de Boulogne. On one side was the museum, wood and the beautiful fountains, drives and playgrounds. On the other side was the famous suburb of Neuilly. General Pershing, in the residence, and an American hospital (German soldiers were being treated) were

Former Rush County Man Dies While on Visit at Los Angeles

Mrs. L. B. Osborn received a telegram last night at 10:30 o'clock, announcing the death of her uncle, Calvin Gruell, age eighty-six, of San Diego, California, at Los Angeles.

The message said that his death was due to blood poisoning and had taken place Friday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock while he was visiting in Los Angeles. The telegram was sent by Ben Gruell. The deceased formerly lived in this county and was widely related and known here. The body will be taken to San Diego for burial.

ent). It appears to an American as a beautiful residence section of a typical American city. The houses are not crowded and are surrounded by beautiful grounds and gardens. It was in this city that Parmentier introduced the cultivation of the potato to France. His statue is just behind the town hall and shows him peeling a potato. The train after it leaves Neuilly passes along the banks of the Seine for almost a mile still skirting the Bois de Boulogne. It gives one a splendid view of the river and the Ile de Puteau, beyond which is the manufacturing town of Puteau with its stately factory chimneys. On the left before reaching the Pont de Suresnes are the tennis courts and polo grounds given the name of Champ d'Entraînement (Field of Sport). The tram stops before reaching the bridge to permit passengers to alight who desire to visit Longchamps, one of the most famous race courses in the world. After crossing the bridge the car stops at the station in Suresnes and then you begin climbing the heights which rise abruptly from the river to the American Cemetery. It is located on a terrace just under the guns of Mt. Valerien. Fifteen hundred Americans are buried here who died in the hospitals of Paris. The cemetery overlooks the Seine valley from St. Cloud to Paris. Just across the river is the Bois de Boulogne and to the left in Paris, the Arch of Triumph standing out on its hill in mute testimony that they did not die in vain.

On each cross (or star for Jews) was hung a wreath of evergreen and the graves were entirely covered with flowers. About ten thousand people were present mostly Americans in uniform but many in "civies." President Wilson spoke and was attended by American staff officers and General Foch and his staff. Two bands one American and one French furnished the music. It was impossible to hear the speech because of the immense crowd.

Just before the President began his speech, he was saluted by an old man in G. A. R. uniform, the President returned the salute with a smile of recognition. I found out afterwards that he was Capt. W. H. French, 74 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a member of Winchester Post 174, G. A. R., Department of New York. He was temporarily sojourning in Paris and was probably the only person present who heard Lincoln's address at Gettysburg and that of President Wilson, two memorable occasions. He said: "I bought drinks for half the A.-E. F." and at eleven o'clock was still thirsty and willing to bend elbows with any wearer of the O. D. I saw him in the Metro station of Champs-Elysees at ten o'clock at night, he had a crowd of American soldiers around him having the time of his life. He certainly was a gay old sport but it made Memorial day seem like home to see even only one G. A. R. uniform.

In this connection I wish to say that I hope these American dead will not be disturbed. They will receive splendid care in the loving hands of the French villagers. In Suresnes a perpetual organization has been established among the women of the town to forever care for the American graves. And you can rest assured that it will be done. I had occasion to visit another American Cemetery at Bouresches, near Belleau Wood. While there I talked for several hours with men of the Graves Registration Service and from what they told me it would be almost a sacrifice to remove the bodies of those killed in action. Of course those who died in the rear from injuries sustained in action and those who died of disease in the S. O. S. were buried in coffins or boxes and might be removed to the country, but those killed in action, I hope will remain where they are. It is a beautiful thing to have them

Twenty-seven members of the Phi Delta Kappa gathered at the banquet Friday evening in the Scanlan Hotel. The dining room was fittingly decorated with the emblem of the fraternity, pennants and relics unadorned from the archives of the chapter, being used in profusion. One of these the twelve foot chapter flag, has graced every banquet of the fraternity for the past ten years and received much comment. The fraternity flower, the red carnation, was the only floral decoration used, a solitary carnation being placed in the center of each table.

The menus used were elaborate and each item was called by a name having some peculiar reference to the fraternity. The toasts were well received and the list was unique in that each toast lingered on the preceding one and dispensed of some

George Mull Wallace to whom the banquet was tendered, described the progress of the fraternity in his toast. He briefly outlined the early trials of the Psi chapter and clearly pointed out that there must be something especially fine in an organization that has triumphed everywhere over the opposition that Greek letter societies have received. Only one mishap, marred the occasion. The national president, Judge Brumbaugh, who was enroute here in an automobile, broke a spring in Cambridge City and was forced to stop there all night. He telephoned his regrets from that city and his absence was keenly felt.

The toast list follows: Toastmaster, Addison A. Lease; "Phi Delta Welcome", Chas. E. Sherman; "The Fraternity", Byron S. Cowing; "The Guest", G. Mull Wallace; "Married Life", William B. Brann; "Aspirations", O. Harry Schmalzel; "The Ladies", Lester A. Coons.

Following the toasts, Robert Gilsey gave a very clever parody version of "The Face on the Bar Room Floor" in Jewish dialect. A number of informal talks were made in which it was decided to give several more events and the next one is to include the ladies.

Apron No Longer Badge of Service

BY MARGARET ROHE

The apron no more makes maid, It makes the grand dame nifty And nowadays it's being worn By sweet sixteen and fifty.

New York, May 28.—Just at first it's rather a rude shock to glimpse blue blooded Percy von Gotrox at the Ritz with a chic parlor maid all done up in her lace trimmed collar and cuffs and unmistakable sheer lawn and lace edged apron. Another blow is to see young Gerald Manhattan doing a first night with a companion as aproned as one of the young usherettes. Truly this seems carrying American democracy a bit too far. However, if we must live up the limousine evenings and turn the drawing room over Thursdays and Sundays in order to keep the help, perhaps we shouldn't balk at going a bit further and offering our male relatives as escorts for little social junkets at the smart hotels and restaurants occasionally.

Still, it's really rather a relief to discover that Percy von Gotrox's chic parlor maid is Mrs. von herself or that Gerald Manhattan's aproned companion is no other than Lady Vere de Vere. For the apron is no longer the badge of service or domesticity, it has become the smartest touch on the season's newest frocks. The favored apron gown is developed in either black satin or black taffeta with the apron of sheerest organdie, embroidered or or filet lace, superimposed with striking effect on such sombre background. The skirt of the apron gown is always short and bouffant and the bodice of the basque order, with short above-the-elbow sleeves.

These sleeves are often finished with a tiny cuff to match the apron and a round collar or fichu effect to match outlines the low neck line. Sometimes a bib to match the apron is carried up to trim the bodice and nothing seems lacking then save the cap to make that perfect first act parlor maid who dusts the gilded chairs of every current musical comedy.

Next to the black apron frocks those of grey crepe de chine with deep cuffs and wide, round collar of thin organdie to match an all-over apron that goes quite around the skirt like a voluminous apron of the nursemaid type, are deliciously demure and Quakerish in their ensemble. Brown taffeta dresses aproned in biege net or coarse meshed ecru filet are also good and even evening frocks of pastel taffeta do not despise the apron touch, if it be built of gold or silver lace, garlanded in French ribbon flowers.

Some smart navy blue serge models show aprons of heavy linen embroidered in gay colored wools like the aprons of the Roumanian peasants and even thin wash summer dresses of organdie, linen, dotted swiss and voile, where they do not boast virtual aprons, simulate the nearest get of the mode by outlining an oval apron shape in narrow fluted ruffings or in the case of the heavy or linen by an appliqued outline of

Lock The Barn Against Fire

Best practice in barn building today is to make the MOW FLOOR FIRE-PROOF. That will prevent a stable fire causing loss of feed above or fire in the mow endangering animals below.

You use concrete now for stable floors and walls because you want warmth, cleanliness, ease of cleaning and permanence. Go a step further—safeguard your investment. Build a concrete mow floor for insurance against fire. This is good practice. You can see plans of this and other horse barns at our office.

SHOWS GREAT NEED WILL INTRODUCE OF FOREIGN WORK A RELAY CARNIVAL

Dr. Rebecca Parrish of Manila, P. I. Addresses Large Audience at St. Paul's M. E. Church

TABLEAUX VERY IMPRESSIVE.

Rendition of The Parable of The Ten Virgins is a Feature—Reception For Missionary.

Dr. Rebecca Parrish, for thirteen years in charge of the Mary Johnston Memorial Hospital at Manila, P. I., spoke at the Methodist church last night to a large audience. She gave an account of the great need for foreign missionary work and won all who heard her. She told of the daily work of the hospital and of the large number of patients treated both in and outside of the hospital. A collection amounting to nearly $40 was taken at the close of the address.

The ladies missionary quartet—Mrs. V. C. Bodine, Mrs. D. D. Van Osdel, Mrs. F. E. Wolcott, and Mrs. Samuel Morgan, rendered a beautiful selection in a charming manner.

The tableaux of the Ten Virgins was very beautifully staged and performed. Miss Layienna Compton read the scripture giving the account of the parable of the Ten Virgins; Miss Jean Sparks was pinnist; and the Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Black sang the invitation and the response. The five wise virgins were represented by the Misses Virginia Hayden, Margaret Weakley, Lillian Priest, Thelma Fanning and Robert. The five foolish virgins were represented by the Misses Magdalene Aronckley, Martha Fanning, Frances Bowen, Joan Weakley and Josephine Scholl. The young ladies were draped in sheets and carried candles. The auditorium was darkened and the rendition of the parable was very pretty and impressive.

An informal reception preceding the program was held in the parlors of the church.

A Story of Quaint Folks

Interiors of several quaint homes in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Kentucky, which are shown in "Bill Apperson's Boy," the First National feature at the Princess today, starring Jack Pickford, furnish a close study of the lives of the mountaineers who are characters in the picture.

These people, who have lived with little change for the past hundred years, contributed some of the best fighters who went to France under the American banner and have within themselves a code of honor which is one of the strictest in the world. Larry Senon is also at this theater today in "Buckin' The Buck."

Grace Darling, the well-known picture star actress and author, is being featured in "Even As Eve", taken from the story by Robert W. Chambers, which is to be shown at the Princess Monday.

"Poor Relations"—Mystic

Florence Vidor and ZaSu Pitts are seen in excellent characterizations in "Poor Relations," the Brentwood production at the Mystic today.

Miss Vidor, who played the lead in "The Other Half," a recent Brentwood picture, and Miss Pitts, who scored heavily as "The Jazz Kid" in the same production, have sharply contrasted roles in "Poor Relations" that give them splendid opportunities for their strongly individualized talents.

Dorothy Perkins (Miss Vidor) and Daisy Perkins (Miss Pitts) were opposites in everything but their name and origin. Dorothy was ambitious and artistic and longed for the environment and refinements which wealth could bring. Daisy was full of mischief, buoyant and inclined to be "jazzy."

Dorothy realized her ambition, but it almost broke her heart. Daisy stayed in the little country town, married her father's clerk, who was transformed into a Prince. Charming in her eyes when he bought a fliver and dolled up in store clothes, and found happiness.

Crawfordsville High School Will Advance Idea of Holding an Early Track Event

SUGGESTS APRIL 16, 1921

Although School is Now "Outlawed" It Will be Again in the Field After September

By HEZE CLARK

(Written for United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—With the return of the Crawfordsville high school to good standing in the Indiana High School Athletic Association in September plans will be placed before the board of control for an invitational relay carnival.

This will be held at Crawfordsville April 16, 1921 if the present plans of Frank McGath of the "Hoosier Athens" carry and the approval of the board is obtained. The relay is held early so it will not in any way interfere with the sectional meet or the state track meet which events are always held in May. Then the winners of the various relay races could be sent out to the Drake relay carnival the following week and have a chance to win national honors, and still later some of the best Hoosier relay teams might have a chance to be sent to the Pennsylvania relay meet at Philadelphia.

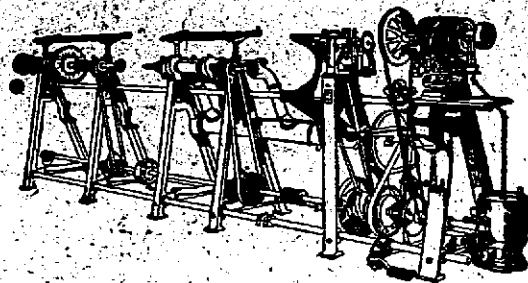

He has made it plain that none of the star track and field men now representing the "outlaw" Crawfordsville school will be in that school next year. The famous coach who has developed the champion high school relay team of the central west must therefore develop future winners from new and in experienced material after his school has been reinstated in the Indiana High School Athletic Association. McGath is therefore not taking advantage of other high schools in holding the relay carnival.

The carnival will be under the auspices of the Crawfordsville high school if it is held. The events proposed are: five relay races, a 100-yard dash and 120-yard high hurdle race.

The relay races would include a 880-yard relay race, four men each running 220 yards; a mile relay race of four men running 440 yards; a two mile relay race each of the four men on a team running 880 yards; a medley race and a shuttle relay race.

The medley relay race will be run by teams of four each. The first runner would cover 220 yards, the second man would sprint 440 yards, the third would run 660 yards and the finish man would run 880 yards.

The shuttle relay would be run on grass and the football field would be used. Each athlete would run the length of the football field.

After waiting so long a time, I have secured a Number One Shoemaker. So we can give you first class work while you shop in town. No more putting off until next day. Best of material used as you know. Now I am looking for your support.
